

Senate Restores Leader's Plan To Reorganize Government

GOP Absences Give Victory To Democrats

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (AP) — Senate Democrats capitalized on Republican absences tonight to restore to virtually its original form a plan to give Gov. George M. Leader broad powers for governmental reforms.

It was the first time in 18 years that the Democrats were able to carry a party line vote in the Senate.

Not since they controlled the Senate in 1937 were Democrats able to overcome the Republican majority—and this time, only because three Republicans senators were away.

The vote was 24-23 on Democratic amendments to provide that any government reorganization program proposed by Leader would take effect after 30 days unless rejected by either the House or Senate in that period.

The amendments knocked out Republican revisions which had called for an affirmative vote by both House and Senate within 30 days on any reshuffling plan. Otherwise, the plan would automatically die.

The Democratic success on the amendments virtually assured passage of the entire bill tomorrow. Seven Republicans pledged their support of the measure. They include Sen. Albert R. Pechan (Armstrong).

Meanwhile, the House passed finally 161-23 an administration-supported plan to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, creed, color or national origin.

A Fair Employment Practices Commission would be set up to enforce anti-bias regulations under the measure which goes to the Senate.

The lower branch, in control of the Democrats, spent more than two hours in beating down Republican proposals to revise the FEPC bill.

GOP amendments had suggested that discrimination because of age, physical handicaps, sex or selective service status also be banned as a condition of employment.

Other revisions beaten down would have removed the penalty provisions of the measure and also the ban on advertisements mentioning any sort of job bias.

Although all of the 23 "no" votes were cast by Republicans, the bill could not have passed without Republican support. There were 10 Democratic absences, enough to require the help of GOP votes.

Meanwhile, the House also passed and sent to the governor a Senate-approved measure making a $15,644,000 deficiency appropriation to pay relief claims between now and the end of the current two-year fiscal period.

It was the first bill of the 1955 Legislature to clear both chambers and be put on the governor's desk for signature.

The Republican absents during the Senate vote on government reorganization were Sens. John T. Van Sant (R-Lehigh), hospitalized with a fractured hip; Henry J. Proper (R-Montgomery), recuperating at home from a heart attack, and Charles R. Mallory (R-Blair), at home because of the death of his brother on the weekend.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, expressed his party's opposition to the amendments on grounds that the bill was unconstitutional.

But Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, replied:

"Let us allow the courts to decide the question of law and we will decide the questions of legislation."

Dent also disclosed he received an opinion from Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen that the bill is constitutional.

Mahany then asked why individual proposals for governmental reforms were not being submitted in the same form as recommendations of the Chesterman committee in 1953.

Dent recalled that he and Mahany cosponsored the Chesterman bills adding:

"The death knell to the Chesterman committee as such was the refusal of the committee itself to appear before any group in support of its own recommendations."

Husband Admits Killing Wife

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP) — A young husband was accused today of killing his wife in a fit of rage because she insisted on practicing birth control to postpone having a second child.

Police said Thomas Courtney, a 21-year-old Irish immigrant, admitted he grabbed a gun at the height of a bitter quarrel on the subject and shot his wife, Eileen, 20, to death.

He was held without bail on a homicide charge.

As recounted by police, the couple had been wrangling about how soon they should have another child since shortly after their infant daughter was born 15 months ago.

She wanted to space their children three years apart. Courtney wanted another child as soon as possible.

Wrecked Airliner Found Atop Icy Appennines Peak; All 29 Occupants Killed

RIETI, Italy, Feb. 21 (AP) — A Rieti Province, said there were indications would-be looters had reached the crash scene before the official search parties.

"I have suspicions—almost proof—that somebody reached the plane before we did, possibly to loot the wreck," Mauro said. "I have ordered an investigation to find out who found the plane and failed to report it."

Pietro Felici, leader of the ski patrol, said the bodies of five victims were found in the snow outside the plane. The other bodies appeared to be in the wrecked cabin and crew compartment, he said.

The plane was last heard from when it reported to the Rome Airport, only 16 minutes away, the night of Sunday Feb. 13. It was on a regular flight from Brussels to Leopoldville, Belgian Congo, by way of Rome with 21 passengers and eight crew members.

A search plane and a helicopter spotted the wreckage 4,500 feet up on sprawling Mt. Terminillo, 60 miles northeast of Rome, earlier. It was almost invisible from the air, but enough could be seen to make positive identification.

Luigi Rossi, a ski instructor at a Mt. Terminillo winter resort, reached the wreckage about the same time as the carabinieri. Upon his return he said it appeared about 14 feet more altitude might have permitted the plane to clear the peak.

SEATO Delegates Convene; Thai Premier Claims Red Troops Massing At Border

BANGKOK, Tuesday, Feb. 22 (AP) — Delegates to the Southeast Asia defense treaty conference gathered today in an atmosphere made tense by the Thai Premier's report that Communist "Free Thai" forces are massing close to Thailand's border.

Thai officials also expressed concern lest Communists among refugees in Laos on Thailand's northeast border stir up disturbances during the three-day conference, opening tomorrow.

(Red China's Peiping radio blasted away at the Bangkok conference. A broadcast heard in Tokyo called it a United States plot to get Asians to do the dying for U. S. aggression in Asia.)

Secretary of State Dulles, before his plane left Manila for Bangkok, said in a statement the time was ripe for "plain speaking" to prevent "a reckless Communist miscalculation which could endanger the lives of many."

Dulles' party was due to arrive in Bangkok about 1 p.m. today—11 a.m. EST Tuesday.

At a news conference yesterday, Premier Phibulsonggram said 20,000 Communist "Free Thai" troops were in Red China's Yunnan Province poised for a jumpoff.

Yunnan's border is scarcely 100 miles north of Thailand. It is separated by a segment of the Indo-chinese state of Laos dominated by the Communists.

At his news conference, Phibulsonggram expressed hope that eventually India and Burma would join the defense organization but said the geographical setup of the treaty signed last September in Manila excluded Japan.

One of the early arrivals, Richard G. Casey, Australian minister of external affairs, told newsmen he saw no "immediate cause for alarm" over the pro-Communist Laos forces.

He also did not feel that the situation in the nearby trouble spots of Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam were "impossible of solution."

Five formal meetings will be held, beginning at 10 a.m. Wednesday—10 p.m. EST Tuesday. All but the last one will be behind closed doors.

Dense Fog Snarls Traffic In Upper Reaches Of County

DANGEROUS DRIVING conditions prevailed throughout the day and night in the mountain area yesterday due to a thick fog and rain but conditions were reported normal in the Stroudsburgs by State Police.

"The fog is so thick here you can't see your hand in front of your face," commented weather observer Harry Green at High Point, Mount Pocono. He said it had been all day and reported only once had there been visibility of a half mile. "It was less than 200 feet most of the time and under 50 feet now," said Greene last night.

The temperatures in that sector had been around 35 most of the day with a low of 29 in the morning. Winds were from the south. Rain last night made the roads slippery along with the fog.

He blamed the fog on a front moving in and becoming stationary, causing cloudy weather. Greene said he thought the fog during the day was caused by

Eisenhower's Road Program Faces Trouble

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP) — President Eisenhower outlined his highway program today to a bipartisan group of congressmen pledged to "no politics in roads." From the immediate reaction, it appeared the President's proposal is in for rough sledding on Capitol Hill.

The White House announced after the hour and a half session that it would send Eisenhower's program to Congress tomorrow.

Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania, senior Republican on the Senate Public Roads subcommittee said Eisenhower indicated there would "not be any major changes" from the controversial Clay report in his own highway program.

The Clay report, announced last month by a special presidential advisory committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, contained features which drew vigorous attack from a number of Senate Democrats.

Sen. Chevez (D-NM), who attended the White House conference, told reporters the program is "so full of holes it might sink in Congress."

The conference was reported to mark the first time Democrats had been called to the White House to discuss a domestic program since Eisenhower took office.

It came only a few hours after Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) said, "Unfortunately, I have been hearing reports that there is an attempt being made to throw highways into politics."

Case made this statement at the start of public hearings by the Public Roads subcommittee on a highway bill offered by the committee chairman, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.). Gore's bill depicts sharply from the plan set forth by the Clay committee.

Clay attended the White House conference and Martin said he thought "everybody was very much impressed with the way he outlined his plan."

Martin said, too, that he thought the Democrats were very well satisfied with the program.

Chavez and Gore, in an interview with newsmen, appeared to be taking a different line, although they agreed the White House conference went off harmoniously.

Gore said there are "certain appealing features in the Clay program" and that "they will be given every consideration" by his committee.

Martin conceded the financing aspects of the administration program would probably face considerable Democratic opposition.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, emphasized that the President had been "vitally concerned about a highway program for the nation for many years."

Eisenhower, Hagerty added, "said that as far as he is concerned there is nothing partisan about building the roads—that they are going to be used by the people of the nation."

Asked whether Eisenhower might change his recommendations as a result of the conference, Hagerty said, "I don't believe so."

The White House conference was held after the subcommittee recessed its hearing until Wednesday.

The submarine report, if true, indicates that Russia may have turned over some of its Pacific submarine fleet to Red China.

At his news conference, Phibulsonggram expressed hope that eventually India and Burma would join the defense organization but said the geographical setup of the treaty signed last September in Manila excluded Japan.

One of the early arrivals, Richard G. Casey, Australian minister of external affairs, told newsmen he saw no "immediate cause for alarm" over the pro-Communist Laos forces.

Heart Fund Collections Expected To Reach Goal

HEART FUND workers watched happily last night as collections reached about $2,700.

Mrs. Samuel Wells, in charge of the door-to-door campaign, said fund officers agreed the returns were almost certain to push the campaign over its $3,000 quota.

A large number of districts still had not reported in late last night. Among them: Pocono Summit, Pocono Lake, Delaware Water Gap, Tannersville $78.56; Shawnee $43.45; Arlington Heights $20.61; Reeds $31; Saylorsburg $52; Echo Lake and Bushkill $40; N. Fifth St. section $88.15; Lackawanna Trail $32.19.

First volunteer to hustle into the Hintze drycleaning store on Seventh St., Stroudsburg—the collection point—was Erma Lambert of 10 S. Ninth St., Stroudsburg. Following her almost at once with their red plastic hearts in hand, were Mrs. David Shiffer and Molly Cramsey, Arlington Heights was the first outside district heard from at heart headquarters.

Mrs. Wells urged residents who might have been missed by workers in last night's drive to mail their contributions to P. O. Box 506.

Driver Pleads Guilty To Auto Deaths

WILFORD — A plea of guilty to two counts of involuntary manslaughter was made in county court here yesterday by Justice J. Burdo, 24, Dingmans Ferry.

The owner of the car Burdo drove pleaded guilty to allowing an intoxicated man to operate his auto. He was Ronald J. Watson, Port Jervis, N. Y.

The case arose from the traffic deaths of Mrs. Nora Williams, 70, Scranton, and her granddaughter Noree Lee Pehanick, 7, also of Scranton, in a car operated by Mrs. Esther Kaplan of Shenorock, N. Y., July 28, 1953.

The accident was at 4:50 p.m. on Route 6 two miles south of Matamoras.

M. Robert J. Smith of Milford, said Burdo pulled out, passed another car, then crashed head-on into the Kaplan auto. Another car was damaged too.

One reason for the postponement of the hearing was because of Mrs. Kaplan's lengthy illnesses since the fatal crash.

District Attorney Clifton Cloud presented the cases before President Judge Fred W. Davis. Burdo was represented by F. J. Mervine of Stroudsburg, and Hoatson by Eli Connors of Port Jervis.

Burdo was sentenced to a year in jail and payment of a $300 fine and costs, on the count involving the child. On the other he received a suspended sentence.

Burdo was given a $300 fine and a month in jail. The two men were placed in Pike County jail to start serving their sentences.

A charge of drunken driving against Burdo was nolle prossed, meaning it will not be pressed by the district attorney.

Meanwhile all rescue operations were at a standstill because of the danger of further explosions.

Rail Shares Pace Market To New High

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—The stock market climbed to new heights today with railroad supporting most of the power.

Demand for the nation's carriers featured a session that contained much backtracking and narrow price changes among industrial issues. Most utilities were steady.

Aircrafts, mining stocks, radio-television and motion picture issues tended to improve. Chemicals ended irregular after showing higher prices most of the day. Steels, motors, distillers and department stores were also mixed. Oil favored the minus column.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 20 cents to $160.10, an all-time record. The railroad component was up one dollar 20 cents while utilities rose an equal amount.

Trading expanded to 1,252 issues compared with 1,222 on Friday. But volume declined to 3,010,000 shares from Friday's 3,660,000 shares.

Of the issues changing hands, 601 advanced and 421 declined. During the session, there were 130 new highs established and only one new low.

How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist Offers Written Guarantee

An exclusive interview by Steven Bright

WICHITA (Special)—J. Wayne Green, Director of Rogers, Inc., Hair and Scalp Specialists, explored the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview. "Baldness is unnecessary, costly and a plague to mankind," says Green. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Rogers method of hair and scalp treatment can turn colorless fuzz into healthy, growing hair—can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, Wednesday ONLY, February 23 at the Indian Queen Hotel. Trichologist James Austin will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9:00 P.M. on Wednesday ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason For Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair." Men, and yes, women too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up.

"The simple answer," emphasizes the expert, "is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case, baldness would be a rarity today."

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Green dodged no issue. "He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's" un-realistic belief that baldness is hereditary

Red Cross Chapter Announces District Quotas For Campaign

Rally Slated For Wednesday Is Cancelled

VOLUNTEER CAPTAINS and workers from all over the county, mobilizing for the 1955 American Red Cross campaign for members and funds starting March 1, have an overall quota of $16,190. A tally of workers planned for Wednesday night has been cancelled.

One of the important facts concerning this campaign is that the major portion of this fund remains in the county for human service.

The public service performed by the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross is one of the finest examples of the American way of life," Rhodes said. "All of us have the responsibility of providing for those less fortunate than ourselves and this is actually a pleasant duty, for there is no greater satisfaction than that gained by helping others.

The Red Cross by its many activities works constantly to make Monroe County a better place in which to live. We citizens need the services of the Red Cross but it cannot function without our support.

"I am confident that this year the generous, public spirited people of our county will give their wholehearted support to the 1955 Membership Drive."

To tell the Red Cross story on the individual level, Rhodes has enlisted the help of a small army of volunteers in each district of the township.

The captain and the quotas in the various districts are as follows: Stroudsburg, $5,500; Mrs. Leroy Koehler; East Stroudsburg, $2,750; Carl Secor; Barrett, $2,600; Frank Thomas; Chestnuthill, $350; Mrs. Homer Shupp; Coalbaugh, $500; Mrs. James Lynch; Delaware Water Gap, $225; Mrs. Jack LaBar; Eldred; $250; Mrs. Adam Bohner; Hamilton, $350; Mrs. Charles Hobbs; Jackson, $150; James Heitman; Middle Smithfield, $300; Mrs. Jack Shinn; Mount Pocono, $285; Mrs. Louis Ingwers; Paradise, $300; Mrs. Ethel Wakefield; Pocono, $450; Fred Hill; Polk, $130; Mrs. Thelma Anthony; Ross, $140; Mrs. Ambrose Altemose; Smithfield, $625; Mrs. William Roulette; Stroud, $1,000; Rex Harkness; Tolyhanna, $250; Tunkhannock, $25.

LeRoy Mikels is serving as chairman of a special gifts committee. Those gifts, in every case, will be credited to the home district. Mrs. Horace Westbrook is chairman of publicity.

The Red Cross story which these workers will have to tell has already been told in terms of service to local residents, primarily through the blood program and at the local hospital. During 1954, 1516 pints of blood were donated by Monroe County residents through the blood program. During that 12-month period, 884 volunteers gave 9,405 hours of service.

The home service of the local Red Cross to veterans, servicemen and their dependents during the past year involved 387 cases, with 327 home visits and 1,224 office interviews. Meal tickets and other assistance was given to 50 transient veterans who called at local headquarters for aid.

"Statistics do tell a story," Rhodes pointed out, "a story of people helping people through the Red Cross. Every member of the Red Cross has had a share in that help."

Four-Lane Road Sought

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (P)—Route 6 in northern Pennsylvania would be widened to four lanes under a proposal reaching the Senate tonight.

Seven senators sponsored a resolution urging the Highways Department to call on the federal government to include the improvement project in its over-all highway building program.

"Route 6 across northern Pennsylvania is the most direct route between Chicago and Cleveland in the west and New York," said Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter). "But it is narrow and winding and needs improvement."

Berger said he will introduce another resolution tomorrow asking similar federal-state improvement of U. S. Route 219 in western Pennsylvania.

Route 219 is a principal artery of traffic between the Buffalo area and a number of communities in western Pennsylvania.

Cosponsors with Berger of the Route 6 improvement resolution are Sens. Leroy E. Chapman (R-Warren), Albert E. Madigan (R-Bradford), C. Arthur Blass (R-Erie), Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford), William Z. Scott (R-Carroll) and Hugh J. McMenamin (D-Lackawanna).

C. D. Police Training School Holds First Meeting Tonight

THE CIVIL DEFENSE Auxiliary Police Training School will hold an organizational meeting at 7:30 tonight in the Day St. firemen's building, East Stroudsburg. A special program including sound motion pictures has been arranged for this "kick-off" meeting.

Officer Arthur V. Jones, a man of wide experience in police work and who is now head of his own detective agency, has been appointed by the state to instruct the candidates.

All men and women who have registered for the course, which consists of eight sessions, should be in attendance at this meeting. Others who may be interested in the work of the Auxiliary Police, and who have not yet registered may do so at this initial meeting, or they may contact Civil Defense Headquarters in the Monroe County Courthouse, either by phone or in person.

This course started out primarily as a course for women who were interested in auxiliary police work. Due to the fact, however, that some of the husbands wanted also to take the course and also the fact that a number of men who were unable to take the last course also requested accommodation in the class, the course has been enlarged to accept both men and women candidates.

Indications, based on preliminary enrollment, point to another record enrollment.

Local officials, key Civil Defense personnel and members of borough police will be in attendance tonight.

West Poconos May Organize Association

ERODHEADSVILLE—Possibility of forming a Western Poconos Resort Association was discussed by about 40 people here last night.

The group is considering the territory from Wind Gap to Kresgeville and somewhere north of Effort Mountain, as the Western Poconos.

It was the second meeting. The first was held last week. A third will be held at the Brodheadsville Inn here next week.

Robert Hoffman of Brodheadsville, speaking for the group, said there was no temporary chairman and that no officers had been elected. He said no one was serving as discussion leader, and that no one person had called the meeting.

Last night's session dealt with the question of whether or not to form a definite organization. No decision was reported. Hoffman said the group has taken no action of any sort yet, and hasn't arrived at any agreement.

Harold Swenson, executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau and Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the group.

He told of the work of other resort associations, and briefed listeners on the new plans for joint promotion by three of the four current resort associations.

First Air-Mail Flight Made 31 Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (P)—Through snow, fog, sleet and bitter cold the first transcontinental air-mail flight crossed the United States 34 years ago tomorrow.

Along the way in lonely spots at night, some people lit bonfires to tell the pilots they were on the right course.

Recalling it all today, the Post Office Department said four flights actually left Feb. 21, 1921, on the New York-San Francisco run, two Westbound, two Eastbound.

The first Eastbound flight crashed in Nevada and the pilot was killed. Both Westbound flights were grounded, one shortly after leaving New York and the other in Chicago.

But the second Eastbound flight made its appointed round, arriving in New York on Feb. 23 after seven stops.

JOSEPH P. Viglione M. D. will be out of town Sat. Feb. 26 and Sun. Feb. 27 to attend Penn State Centennial.

CLU Seeks To Promote New Industry

CENTRAL LABOR Union is forming a group to promote new industry, a CLU spokesman said yesterday.

The statement was made to directors at a Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce meeting in Stroudsburg.

At the same time, the three-man CLU committee said he had heard "a large number of comments" that the chamber was opposed to bringing in new industry.

Added CLU's Ralph Paul: "We're not in a position to say that it is true or false."

Apparently the focal point of the CLU comments was the decision of Corning Glass Co. recently against locating a new plant in the Stroudsburgs.

The CLU committee—Paul, Walter Arnold and Arthur Frantz—had been invited to the chamber meeting to give its views on industrial development.

Paul told directors his committee had been instructed to contact merchants in the Stroudsburgs and immediate area with the aim of forming an industrial promotion group.

He told directors: "We contend that if labor is hired, our unemployment will cease in this area."

If this were done, Paul said, merchants would benefit too. That's why they were being contacted, he said.

The labor spokesman said CLU was informed that the chamber was "working in opposition" to the new group, and CLU members feel the chamber is not doing what it should."

CLU had "heard a number of comments along this line," Paul said, "and many of the rumors were picking on Corning Glass."

In reply, chamber president Walter Peeney instructed executive secretary Harold Swenson to take out of the files and read two letters relating to Corning Glass—one from that firm's president, William C. Decker, and one from A. C. Hopkins, manager of the industrial development division of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, which worked with the chamber in trying to persuade Corning to locate in Monroe County.

Said Decker, in part, in informing Swenson of the final decision: "As you know, Corning Glass has decided not to locate a plant in Stroudsburg. We do, however, want to thank you for the excellent cooperation given to us during our investigation."

"The choice of a site for a plant manufacturing glass products is controlled by a great variety of considerations. We want you to know that our decision was not due to any thing done or left undone by your group. On the contrary, it was based on factors over which you have no control."

"The competent manner in which you cooperated by supplying us with the information required during our investigation indicated to us that Stroudsburg is indeed fortunate in having such an enthusiastic and capable representative to explain the advantages your community offers to industries interested in locating there"

The other letter, from Hopkins, cited two reasons for the Corning turn-down:

"In the last analysis, I understand Stroudsburg was turned down because of Corning's absolute requirement of being able to see 2,000 employees available in the town before they got there. Also, I believe they were worried that Tolyhanna, in event of a national emergency, might have a higher priority for the available people than their operation."

Hopkins said, "I think the facts that you and we presented to them, plus the visit with Mr. Decker last August by you, Montgomery Crowe, Roy Mikels, Gerald O'Neill (all chamber directors) and myself, certainly put out the "Welcome" mat and gave them every reason to select Stroudsburg It is my sincere belief that we have laid some very good groundwork for future prospects with all the information that has been accumulated"

Swenson reviewed his efforts to bring in Corning, starting with the initial contact more than a year ago. Contacts were renewed at least once every three weeks, and kept up even after Corning said he had no interest in the area.

He has found from experience that a complete, efficient service makes for reasonable prices without any sacrifice in quality or workmanship.

'Financial Juggling Act'

During his campaign last year, Gov. George M. Leader made the task of financing Pennsylvania's big and growing budget sound easy. He and his party were so sure of their ability to solve the state government's financial problems that they made the elimination of the state sales tax a key issue in their campaign.

Mr. Leader went even further. As recently as his inauguration last month, he reiterated that he would find new revenues and balance the state budget without resorting either to a sales tax or to an income tax.

But now the cold, gray dawn has come to Harrisburg. The Leader administration has had time to measure the enormity of the state's commitments which must be financed, somehow. It has learned that administrative economies alone can make hardly more than a dent in the problem. No tax plan has yet been developed.

Not only is the administration without a revenue plan for the next two years. It is strapped for funds with which to finish out the remaining three months of the present two-year fiscal period. Mr. Leader has asked for 40 million dollars in deficiency appropriations; he urgently needs 22 million dollars immediately.

Some of the devices being considered by the Leader administration fit into what Mr. Leader himself referred to the other day as "a financial juggling act."

One is a scheme to tax energy sources, in particular the gas and oil flowing through the state in interstate pipelines, which flies in the face of the prohibition against taxing interstate commerce.

The Red-Ink Post Office

Postmaster General Summerfield thinks he can hold the Post Office deficit to about $15 million dollars this year.

That's about half the size of the postal deficit in 1952, the year before Mr. Summerfield took over.

This estimated deficit of 315 million dollars for this year will come out of the pockets of the taxpayers. We think the people

Another is a suggestion for borrowing money from the state's Motor Fund. But a 1945 amendment to the State Constitution limits such loans, and the money would have to be repaid in June, if it were borrowed.

Still another was the suggestion that the state may conserve some cash by delaying payments to state-aided hospitals. But that would be a costly way to get money. The state-aided hospitals have financial problems equally as urgent as the state government's. Cutting off their cash would simply leave it up to local governments and individuals to make up the money to avoid a collapse of some hospital services.

Even now, the General Hospital and many other voluntary hospitals are in need of aid to cover costs for "charity" patients. The state pays only 34 per cent of that cost and the net loss to the hospitals is too heavy.

This amount will have to be made up by local taxpayers or by local contributors. And if the state runs other hospitals further in the hole by withholding state aid, the bill will be much larger. Maybe Mr. Leader can save money that way, but we won't.

Everybody, or nearly everybody, is well aware of the size of Mr. Leader's financial problem, and sympathetic with his efforts to solve it.

The new Governor now is up against the hard reality. We hope he finds a way out—one that doesn't place unfair burdens on the taxpayer or merely postpone the day of reckoning.

My America

BRAIN STORM!

—by Harry Boyd

Present Soviet Leaders May Go Way Of Others

For once I had a hunch that paid off. With the jettisoning of Fatso Malenkov I figure I am easily two or three weeks ahead of the game on my homework. And my head is not all cluttered with a lot of surplus information for which I no longer have any use.

When it was announced that Stalin had gone to his just reward—and I hope he is getting it good—the what-does-this-mean boys scrambled frantically to inform themselves and the public on what might be expected of his heirs-apparent, Malenkov, Molotov and Beria. The source material was skimpy but they made the most of what there was.

They carefully dissected all the available past utterances of the three men, looking for signs of basic philosophy and subtle hints as to what their future attitudes might be. They thumbed through the old news photos to see which of the three stood closest to Stalin the oftenest while reviewing the different parades.

They Hawkhawed around to find which had cracked the most smiles, so far as anybody could remember, and pried deep for other symptoms of human qualities to suggest that this or that member of the triumvirate might turn out to be less of a blackguard than "Good Old Joe."

At the time, I decided I wouldn't go in for any of that long-distance psychoanalysis but would leave the heavy research work to more serious-minded scholars. I chose to string along with the theory that none of the three Russian strong men was any bargain and that all three might be out the window before anyone had them sized up satisfactorily.

It was a good hunch. Here it is less than two years later and the triumvirate is already pretty well shot. Beria is dead, reportedly. Malenkov is out. And old Molotov's goose perhaps isn't hanging any too high.

Two other faces have moved onto the big poster-boards, and at this writing there is no guarantee that we'll have to look at them very long, either.

If nobody minds, I'm going to follow the same course on Bulganin and Khrushchev as I did on the other three. I'm inclined to think that the philosophies of all these understudy racketeers have very little bearing on the price of hogs.

It is less likely that they will shape world events than that world events will shape them. Or knock them completely out of shape.

In a situation like they have over there it's a waste of time to analyze the kind of history a man can make until he actually makes some. It makes no difference how many times Bulganin has been known to smile, or how kind Khrushchev was to his mother.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

In his autobiography, "I Like People," Grove Patterson long-time editor of the Toledo Blade, reveals that Winston Churchill's domestic relations were often strangely similar to those of simple commoners. "We were dining at Lord Rothermere's," recalls Mr. Patterson.

"The Prime Minister, of course, was smoking one of his fat cigars, letting the ashes fall where they would. Finally, when his shirt was literally covered with ashes, Mrs. Churchill could take it no longer. 'Winston,' she said sharply, 'won't you think you could be a little more careful with that cigar?' The Prime Minister replied petulantly, 'My dear Clementine, I do wish you'd be good enough to reserve your domestic criticism for the home-wafed journey!'

One is inclined to favor that man for that reason.

If I may offer a suggestion to take care of congressmen's second home, which I know is a problem, why not have a housing development in a nearby suburb to be used by legislators only? Then there will always be room.

Sorry, but I can't share your praise for the "brave congressmen" who showed courage to try to swing a 66 2/3% raise for themselves. This low percentage is not exactly jelly beans. It's $10,000. I would like to see any one, in private industry, request a raise like that.

You and I know most congressmen are either lawyers, contractors or have some sort of businesses of their own back home and it pays to do business with a man in public office because he can be of service to you, so

State Village Action Delayed

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (AP)—Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro today postponed any "further action" at Laurelton State Village until the Union County institution is "back on a smooth operational basis."

"I don't intend to meet with anyone or take any action until I see that the Village is operating smoothly," Shapiro told a newsman.

Last week the two heads of the institution for female mental defectives resigned their posts in protest of Shapiro's "methods" in conducting a cleanup of what he described as "miserable conditions" in the Village.

Dr. Effie C. Ireland, superintendent, and her assistant, Dr. Catherine Edgette, resigned last week. The next day the board of trustees refused to accept their resignations and criticized statements made by Shapiro about the management of the institution.

The village now is being run by personnel loaned from the state hospital at Danville and others and I want to wait awhile before I take a looksee at the situation," Shapiro explained.

Shapiro said one of the men working at the institution now is Dr. Orville Fitzgerald, Selinsgrove, a former member of the Welfare Department.

BETTER HURRY! THIS BARGAIN WON'T LAST LONG!

Atomic Blast Scheduled Early Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 21 (P—)

The second blast of the new atomic test series is set for 5:45 a.m. tomorrow. It will be a medium-size shot from a 300-foot tower.

Continuing winds forced the Atomic Energy Commission again to call off plans for a big explosion from a 500-foot tower, postponed since the series was scheduled to start last Tuesday.

The explosion will be held on Yucca Flat with about 200 military observers in trenches 4,000 yards away, but there will be no maneuvers.

Forty planes including 24 F84s from the Tactical Air Command will engage in the aerial phase of the test.

The AEC said traffic will be blocked off on U. S. Highway 95 between Lathrop Wells and India Springs just before shot time. The predawn flash can blind motorists.

Final confirmation of the test is due to another weather conference tonight.

The series opener last Friday was a tiny A-bomb plane drop, perhaps only half the power of the original A-bomb.

"I've Got All The Insurance I Need"

"Of course, if someone was injured in my car and won a law suit, it might ruin me financially. The way prices have gone up, guess I'd be in a fix if a fire destroyed our home. We couldn't rebuild with the insurance I carry. It's been 10 years since we increased our fire insurance coverage."

"Come to think of it, maybe I haven't got all the insurance I need. Say, what's the telephone number of C. H. Crowe Company, Inc.? Phone 2810? Thanks."

NATIONAL BEAUTY SALON WEEK MARKS GOLDEN AGE OF COIFFURES

Professional Permanent Waving Is Modern Magic For Coiffure Beauty By CONSTANCE CHARM

Today's professional permanent wave is the modern magic touch essential to the beauty of today's coiffures.

Without this magic touch we could not have the freedom and mobility inherent in the coiffure designs of today nor could today's hair fashions be translated to enhance the distinctive characteristics of every individual woman.

During the week of February 20, National Beauty Salon Week, we recognize that today's permanent wave is the result of a tremendous amount of careful laboratory research. Added to this study is an extensive collaboration with the professional hairdresser whose years of training and experience create permanent waving individually prescribed to suit the needs of every woman's hair.

Pleasant Valley Lutheran Groups 20th Anniversary

Gilbert—The twentieth anniversary was observed by the Pleasant Valley Lutheran Parish Women's Missionary Society and the Men's Brotherhood on Monday night, Jan. 31, in St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Kunkletown.

The organizations were formed in January, 1935, under the supervision of the Reverend and Mrs. Elton L. Angstadt, he being the pastor of the parish at the time. Both organizations serve their purposes well with a keen interest in missions and brotherhood, respectively. This is proved by the fact that the Missionary group provides a scholarship to a girl's school in Liberia and the men of the Brotherhood unite to discuss topics which help them better serve the church and the community by understanding their problems.

A covered dish supper was served by women of the churches of the parish. A large decorated cake was cut by Mrs. Angstadt and Stanley Borger, first presidents of the organizations.

The turkey dinner was served to the following: S. Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas Brennan and children, Tommy and Linda Marie, Bobbie and Randy Gottier, Dickey and Jimmie Motts and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gottier and Mrs. Francis Marvin. Mr. Marvin was unable to attend being on vacation in Florida.

Alcoholism Described As No. 3 Disease

MOUNT POCONO—“Alcoholism is accepted today in all fields as an illness which is approximately in the No. 3 position in our country as a recognized major ailment,” emphasized a guest speaker representing the Bethlehem group of Alcoholics Anonymous at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club here last night. John F. O’Neill was program chairman.

The speaker named cancer and heart condition as the nation’s two top illnesses ahead of alcoholism in discussing the program being carried on by A. A. This program is a means of recovery offered to individuals having such a problem.

Rotarians learned that there are now over 150,000 alcoholics recovered in the United States, who are members of more than 2,800 A. A. groups such as the unit in operation in the Stroudsburgs.

The Bethlehem representative stated: “There is better than a 75% opportunity for the ultimate recovery of individuals if they care to become associated with Alcoholics Anonymous. About 50 per cent make the grade from the beginning, 25 per cent eventually, and the remaining 25 per cent fall into several classifications such as those mentally incapable of understanding, those physically incapable of being treated, and those who absolutely have no desire to recover.”

“There is no cost involved in seeking assistance through A. A., it was stressed by the speaker. Any member of a family or interested friend may make inquiries for an alcoholic if he is not willing to do so himself.

“Actually a new member joins nothing. He merely associates himself with other individuals having a common problem and until such time as he so elects anonymity is closely guarded,” concluded the A. A. man.

Rotary President Willard G. Webster presided at the meeting.

Senate To Vote Wednesday On Congress Pay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (UPI)—The Senate late today agreed to vote Wednesday on a proposed 50 per cent pay hike for members of Congress. Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) therupon cut short a speech he had been making against the measure.

Morse took the floor early in the afternoon for what had all the earmarks of a marathon speech. He threatened to talk indefinitely to stall a vote before Wednesday.

Democratic and Republican leaders, who support the pay increase measure, huddled and finally came up with an agreement to start voting on the bill Wednesday, with a 30-minute debate limit on amendments and one hour on final passage, to be divided equally between those for and against the measure.

The agreement, which required unanimous consent of all senators present, was read and quickly adopted. Then the Senate adjourned for the day.

Morse had argued that the Senate had no right to ram through a pay increase for itself without debate and without time for the country to realize what was going on.

That was the reason he gave for insisting on a delay in the vote until Wednesday.

The Senate has before it a bill to boost salaries of members of Congress from $15,000 to $22,500 a year. The House already has voted an increase to $25,000. Senators and representatives now get a basic salary of $12,500 a year, an expense allowance of $2,500 for which they do not have to account, and $3,000 of their income is tax-free. This $3,000 exemption would be retained in the House bill.

Morse had tried earlier to get Sen. Clements of Kentucky, the acting Democratic leader, to seek an agreement for a vote Wednesday. The Senate will transact no business tomorrow. George Washington’s Birthday anniversary, and will convene only to hear read Washington’s Farewell Address.

When Clements failed to agree to seek a time for voting Wednesday and wouldn’t say how long he intended to keep the Senate in session tonight, Morse said he had several amendments to the bill and intended to speak on them “at some length—during the night if necessary.”

Morse holds the Senate record for continuous speaking, 22 hours and 29 minutes, on April 24-25, 1953, when the tidelands oil bill was before the Senate.

New System Of Licensing Hunters Urged

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (UPI)—The state Game Commission joined with legislative leaders and organized sportsmen today in favoring a move to streamline Pennsylvania’s hunting license system at an estimated state saving of between $125,000 and $150,000 a year.

A resolution was approved “looking with favor” on the idea of establishing a permanent registration and central issuing agency along the lines of the system used for motor vehicle operators’ permits.

Rep. Harris G. Breth (D-Clearfield), chairman of the House Conservation and Wildlife Committee, set the estimate for state savings under the plan.

He also noted that the plan would reduce the cost to the hunters after it had been in effect one year.

The proposal excludes any sort of hunters’ examination or firearms’ registration.

A committee was appointed to continue a study of the plan and to “see what kind of legislation might be introduced in the General Assembly to carry out the plan if it proves feasible.”

Hunting licenses now are sold by the state Revenue Department through more than 1,850 authorized issuing agents who collect a 15-cent fee on each license.

Although the agents are usually located at sporting goods and hardware stores, licenses may also be purchased from county treasurers or direct from the Revenue Department in Harrisburg.

The total sale of licenses for the 12-month period from Sept. 1, 1953 to Aug. 31, 1954, was $90,566. Resident permits cost $3.15 and non-resident licenses $20.

The plan would provide for the central license issuance and permanent registration by the Revenue Department. This is how it would work as outlined to the group:

Hunters buying 1955-56 licenses this September would be given an application for next year’s license.

Two months before the 1955-56 license expires the Revenue Department would mail application forms from a master list. The first year the fee would remain $3.15 with the 15 cents being used to cover the cost of the necessary individual mailing address plate. After that the charge would be $2.00.

Chicago Voters Hold Primary Election Today

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (UPI)—Chicago’s white-haired Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, drafted by Democratic party leaders because he wasn’t a politician, reaches the showdown tomorrow in a battle to the hilt.

After nearly eight years in office, Kennelly was dumped by the city’s professional party organization in favor of Richard J. Daley, one of its most affable and successful men.

The campaign, a tiring battle waged on television, radio, and in countless neighborhood and community rallies, has kept a sharp focus on the theme of leadership and civic progress.

Many a voter unable to escape shots in the propaganda bombardment of the last two months, has marveled at the lack of explosives—personalities and charges of corruption or worse—which usually dominate Chicago politicking.

The city’s election commission says 1,100,000 voters are expected in tomorrow’s primaries—200,000 in the Republican contests, and 900,000 in the Democratic. There were 357,281 votes in last year’s primary.

The low estimate of GOP voting is accounted for by lack of vigorous opposition to the organization-endorsed Republican candidate, Ald. Robert E. Merriam.

Running with Kennelly and Daley for the Democratic mayoral nomination are Benjamin S. Adamowski, a popular lawyer with a widely-known political background, and Clarence Bialek, an insurance man.

A foreign-made automatic found near Robles’ body, however, was not the gun that killed Aronowitz, 40-year-old gunman who was reported ready to turn state’s witness in a Baltimore robbery case. Aronowitz’s body was found Feb. 15 in his own car, outside a Brooklyn coffee factory.

The Aronowitz case is still under investigation,” said Deputy Police Commissioner Richard A. Dougherty.

President's School Aid Program Criticized By Unions; Segregation Issue Also Raised

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (UPI)—The Senate Labor Committee today completed hearings on President Eisenhower’s school-aid program with critical testimony from the AFL and CIO. There were also indications the whole question may become embroiled in a civil rights fight.

A last-day witness was Clarence Mitchell of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. He testified the administration measures raises a “very serious possibility that the bill in its present form would open the door for numerous attempts to continue racial segregation in the public schools.”

Sen. Douglas (D-III), a member of the committee, recalled a 1949 effort by opponents of public housing to kill a housing measure by tacking to it a nonsegregation “rider.” The attempt failed, but Douglas told Mitchell today “the same problem may be looming.”

The Eisenhower measure is based primarily on a system of federal loans and credits to needy school districts, with only the most impoverished to be eligible for direct grants. These would amount to 200 million dollars over the next three years.

Both Andrew W. Biemiller of the AFL and George T. Guernsey of the CIO denounced the administration bill as inadequate.

Guernsey, associate director of education for the CIO, said the measure would provide “too little” in the way of aid.

“Half-hearted and pinch-penny,” was the label used by Andrew W. Biemiller, legislative representative for the AFL.

ATHLETICS AND athletic organizations within the confines of Monroe County lost a true friend on Sunday morning when Gerald P. O'Neill reached the end of life's road. One could never stop and relate the many gifts Jerry gave to our own little local sports world because only O'Neill himself knew just how many times he stepped in to help, just when help was desperately needed.

One of Jerry's last acts came early in December, when the Varsity "S" Club was making plans for the "Jimmy Carter Day" celebration. O'Neill was a very sick man even at that time, but with every ounce of strength his body possessed he assisted the club and worked extremely hard to get a suitable speaker in the person of Tommy Loughran, just when it appeared as if the banquet would have to go on without a big name at the speaker's table.

It wasn't just a matter of one telephone call and the job being completed—not by a long shot. O'Neill spent three days tracking the former light heavyweight champion down and used countless telephone calls to finally get the likeable Loughran to fill the bill. At the same time Jerry was trying to land Frank Weimer, at that time chairman of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, and failed only because the Philadelphia resident had a previous engagement.

Although, as stated above, he was seriously ill at the time, O'Neill gave up his valuable rest to greet the more than 200 people who attended the Carter banquet. He spoke at length with the lightweight champion and with every other person who was to speak or had anything to do with the affair. He saw to it that everyone was happy and that everything was running smoothly, but when the crowd filed into the dinner room Jerry went home to rest.

The Stroudsburg Little League will miss a true friend. O'Neill's interest in the circuit went much deeper than the fact that his Penn-Stroud Hotel team was a charter member. Both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High football teams have lost an admirer. The luncheon meeting which the Rotary Club dedicates to the two grid squads each year was an annual highlight with the former Stroudsburg hotel owner and civic leader. He was a true sports fan, liking virtually every phase of sports ever invented and doing everything within his power to promote the youth of our area.

No body will ever forget the manner in which Jerry pitched in last summer to assist with the Eastburg Festival of Celebrities, which in turn made possible the construction of the permanent lighting system now in use at Memorial Stadium. The Penn Stroud featured a lunch for many of the visiting celebrities and O'Neill personally saw to it that the aged Connie Mack, Mr. Bassett, to most of us, had an enjoyable and restful stay in this area.

I doubt if anyone knows how many times Jerry obtained speakers for area sports banquets and how many times he sent his personal car to pick up the individuals, whether it be New York, Philadelphia or a spot even greater distant from Stroudsburg. He had a lasting friendship with Colonel "Red" Raider, a member of the West Point athletic staff, and E. E. "Rip" Miller, assistant athletic director at the Naval Academy.

His friendships with coaches, athletic directors, major league players and managers and front office officials were simply countless. His death will be hard felt in the ranks of the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees, two of his beloved. Jerry was an annual guest at the spring, "Welcome Home" banquet for the Yankees at the Concourse Plaza Hotel. His friends were also found in the ranks of boxing and basketball and his memory will live for a long time in the minds of his many friends.

Jerry, according to my way of thinking, was the only member of the Chamber of Commerce and various resort agencies that truly realized the potential value of sports, in regards to the growth of this region. He annually distributed Army-Navy football tickets to his friends in this area—free of charge. Yes, local athletics lost a tremendous friend, one who gave his strength to almost the very last minute to bring the very best to the sportsmen of this area. It will be many years, if ever again, that a man will ever come along who can fill O'Neill's shoes. Most of us couldn't even carry the water bucket for a team composed of fine men like Jerry.

Stroudsburg Host To Lehighton Foe

STROUDSBURG HIGH SCHOOL will attempt to land its fourth basketball victory in the second half of the current Lehigh Valley League campaign, when the Mountaineers play host to Lehighton on the W. Main St. court tonight. It is the final circuit outing of the season for Stroudsburg.

Junior varsity activity is listed for 6:45 p.m., while the main event is scheduled to go on at 8:15 p.m.

Stroudsburg is currently rolling along with a mark of three wins and the same number of defeats, after opening the second half with two straight favorable decisions.

Lehighton, winner of one of five second half encounters, is coached by Ben Jones, a graduate of Stroudsburg High School and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Jones and John Kupice, popular Stroudsburg mentor, were classmates at the W. Main St. school.

Although the Indians have won only one circuit contest this season, they are one of the most improved clubs in the league at the present time. Stroudsburg won over Lehighton, on the latter's home court, earlier in the campaign by a 69-52 count.

Stroudsburg is expected to stick with the same line that took the measure of Palmerton last Friday, 62-60. This means that Dave Nevil and Doug Shook will be the starting forwards and Dick Little or Wallie Adelmann will be at center.

The opening guards are expected to be Don Deibler and Dick Hintze. Other Mountaineers expected to see action during the course of the game are Tom Metzgar, Francis "Sonny" Dieber and Bob Metzgar.

The Mountaineers are currently sporting an overall record of 10 victories and nine defeats.

Coach Jones is expected to start Bob "Cookie" Arner, Reese Volkert, Tommy Mullen, Ronnie Moyer and Hal Zimmerman.

Lehighton and Stroudsburg have constructed a tough rivalry down through the years, with the Mountaineers holding an edge.

Stroudsburg will complete its session next Tuesday, when East Stroudsburg invades the W. Main St. gymnasium.

Six Pocono Mountains League Baseball Teams Set To Play

SAYLORSBURG—Six teams have officially applied for admission into the Pocono Mountains Baseball League for the 1955 season. It was announced last night by Clinton Getz, circuit president, following a regularly scheduled monthly meeting of the league here at the Lake House.

The six teams in the fold are Bushkill, Saylorsburg, West End, Barrett, Kunkletown and Tannersville.

Getz pointed out that Lake Harmony, Pocono Lake and Reeds are certain entries, although they haven't officially applied for admission to date. Anolomink, according to the circuit president, is the only uncertain starter in the field that represented the league last year.

Moorestown has applied for admission in the PML, but its admission was tabled until the next meeting.

All applications and entry fees must be presented to the league on or before the next meeting, which will be held at the Community Bar and Grill, Stroudsburg, Monday, March 21. Entry fee per team is $25.

Each team was granted a refund of $19.38 from the circuit treasury at last night's meeting.

Various new club officials were introduced to the other men present at the meeting.

Josh Wernett and M. N. Warner, secretary, and treasurer respectively were present at the meeting.

TANNERSVILLE — John's Diner outlasted Gray's Chevrolet in one of the most thrilling basketball games of the Pocono Mountains League season last night, 75-73, here on the Pocono High School court.

Merentino Wins Debut

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (P)—Rafael Merentino, a free swinging Argentine import, opened cuts around both eyes of Rinzi Nocero tonight in his U. S. debut to win on an eight round technical knockout at St. Nicholas Arena. The doctor refused to let Nocero come out for the ninth.

Merentino weighed 158^{1/2} lbs. Nocero 159^{1/2}.

Under New York rules, the official result is an eighth round TKO although it would have been different in National Boxing Association states.

Nocero, a game 23-year-old New Yorker, getting his first big chance on a TV show, was slashed around both eyes during the eighth and bled from the nose and mouth. The right eye cut was the worst, bleeding action from Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State Athletic Commission.

It was a wild battle between two willing workers with a background of continuous cheers from the supporters of the two fighters. The South American fans chanted "Merentino" in unison while Nocero's backers rang cowbells and yelled.

In the dressing room it was reported Nocero probably had broken the thumb of his right hand in the third round. His right eye cut required six stitches.

Returns To Action

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21 (P)—Floyd Woolridge, righthanded pitcher, was restored to the St. Louis Cardinals' active list today and he turned in a signed 1955 contract. Woolridge was voluntarily retired last season because of a broken leg suffered in a truck accident in November 1953.

In the dressing room it was reported Nocero probably had broken the thumb of his right hand in the third round. His right eye cut required six stitches.

Bruton Inks Contract

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 21 (P)—Bill Bruton, Milwaukee Braves outfielder, signed his 1955 baseball contract with the National League club today. The southpaw hit .291 in 1954.

Bruton, 28, was 10th in the National League in 1954 with 11 home runs and 100 runs batted in.

The first game is slated at Lancaster February 28.

Guglielmi Signs Two-Year Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (P)—Ralph Guglielmi, All American quarterback at Notre Dame, today signed a two-year contract with the Washington Redskins.

February 18, 1955.

I READ WITH INTEREST your comments on the recent Stroudsburg vs. Palmerton game. I also read your very fair comments on our first half league game at Stroudsburg. I congratulate you on your keen analysis of the first game and I sincerely appreciate your good taste in being impartial. You really presented both sides of the story.

Since I try to be fair with fair people, I think I owe you and the good sports fans of Stroudsburg an explanation and an apology for Friday's drubbing. As far as I can remember it was the first time I have deliberately kept a first string in when the game was under control. I'm sorry and I apologize.

My team this year is the greatest I've ever coached. The kids are wonderful. They're gentlemen, they're good students, they're loyal to me, and they're pretty fair ball players. There won't be any individual honors; we have no one in the scoring race. Any honors Palmerton collects will have to be team honors. Since they are so loyal to me and since I'm so proud of them and their achievements, I felt obligated Friday night to give them a chance in their last home game to try for another team honor, the Palmerton floor record. It wasn't revenue on Stroudsburg, believe me. The name of the opponent wasn't consideration.

I have already apologized to Mr. Kupice and I'm sure he understands. Your coach, by the way, is a gentleman who knows his business.

It has always been a pleasure to meet Stroudsburg in basketball and I sincerely hope that my mistake will not change the spirit of the friendly rivalry between our two schools.

Sincerely Yours,

WIN EVANS,
Basketball Coach, Palmerton High School.

Palmerton Seeks Court Crown

CATASAUQUA — Palmerton High will attempt to clinch the Lehigh Valley League basketball championship tonight when the Bombers oppose Catasauqua, here on the latter's spacious new court. Palmerton has already beaten Catasauqua twice this season.

The Bombers will also be out to increase their record smashing victory string to 23 straight games and to finish the Lehigh Valley League season without a loss.

Other games tonight will send

Whitehall to Emmaus and Slaterville to Northampton.

Second place Parkland and Wilson-Baron will battle in the Lehigh-Northampton League tomorrow night, while first place Coplay battles Bangor tonight, at Coplay, Nazareth and Pen Argyl also meet tonight.

The Lehigh-Northampton League will undoubtedly need a playoff to decide the second half crown, just as it did before Fountain Hill was crowned the first half king.

Bangor To Tangle With Coplay Tonight

BANGOR — Coplay, battling for the second half championship in the Lehigh-Northampton Basketball League, will tangle with Bangor High School tonight on the Coplay court.

Coplay is currently leading the second half standings with a mark of five victories and one setback, while Bangor's mark for the same portion of the campaign consists of a single win and five reversals.

Coach John Heard's Bangor contingent will feature the same line-up that it has in recent contests. Art "Bucky" Parsons and Jim Freeman will be at the forward posts, while high scoring Don Keat operates at center. Wayne Pysher and Duane Miller will be the opening guards.

BANGOR won the first half meeting of the two teams on the Bangor court, 82-54.

The Slatters complete their Lehigh-Northampton League season at East Stroudsburg on Thursday and then battle Phillipsburg in an exhibition contest on Friday, March 4.

Russian Basketball Squad To Visit United States; American Cagers To Play On Red Soil

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (UPI) — An American all-star college basketball team will visit Russia in July and a Russian team will come to the United States in the autumn, a Soviet official said today.

Alexi Chikin, chief of the Foreign Division of the Soviet State Committee on Physical Culture, made the disclosure to the Associated Press at a reception honoring speed skaters at the Netherlands Embassy.

Chikin said, also, an American chess team, including Samuel Reshevsky of New York, is scheduled to visit Moscow in June to repay a high team, single—Bing Bells (712) High individual, single—C. Siprath (175) High individual, match—C. Siprath and Werkerheiser (439).

America's three representatives—Ken Henry of Chicago, Don McDermott of Englewood, N. J., and John Werker of Minneapolis—were on hand.

The three American skaters and their coach, Dick Shearman, spent their last day in Moscow romping around Moscow University and Red Square, waving cameras at will.

The white-mustached Shearman became a landmark around Moscow in less than a week and was hailed as "Tovarich." He was besieged for his autograph and once was almost mobbed in Dynamo Stadium by fans, wanting his American flag emblems.

Sports Writer Rounds Out State Athletic Commission

HARRISBURG, Feb. 21 (UPI) — Gov. George M. Leader today picked Paul G. Sullivan, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph sports writer, to round out his Democratic reorganization of the three-member state Athletic Commission.

Phillies Ink Three Rookies

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21 (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies today announced the signing of three rookie infielders.

The three are Ben Tompkins, former star quarterback at Texas University and more recently second baseman with Syracuse in the International League and Schenectady in the Eastern League; James Wastlade, leading fielding first baseman with San Francisco in the Pacific Coast League last season, and Spencer Robbins, first baseman with Schenectady last year.

A native of Pittsburgh, 51-year-old Sullivan also is practicing Allegheny County attorney.

Named to the commission last week by Leader and awaiting Senate confirmation, are James H. (Sleepy Jim) Crowley of Scranton and a member of the famed "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame, and Alfred M. Klein, of Elkins Park, former associate counsel for the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigation Committee. The commission's principal function is to regulate boxing in the state.

It was the third straight verdict for Penn and gave both the Quinadians a mark of three victories and one setback.

Penn rallied strongly in the last period to gain its biggest decision of the current campaign after Temple had pulled into a 14-12 lead at the three-quarter mark.

The Quakers led 6-4 at the end of the first period and Temple came back to even matters at half time, 10-10. Temple went ahead with a 4-2 bulge in the third stanza, but Penn came on to win with an 8-4 spread in the last period.

Penn held a 10-8 edge in field goals, but Temple made good on two of 15 foul shots. Penn failed to convert any of seven free throws.

Billy Manos led the winning attack with eight points, while Norbert Ryan was tops in a losing cause with six.
